Ocean Drive, in partnership with Naftali Group and OneWorld Properties, co-hosted an exclusive International Women’s Month Panel at Downtown Miami’s JEM Private Residences sales gallery. Complete with a panel of distinguished and powerful women in the Miami area, including Daniele Naftali, executive vice president of marketing and design at Naftali Group, Mariela Rovito, co-founder and CEO of Eberjey and Amy Peterson, CEO and founder of Skincare by Amy Peterson, the women discussed gender, creativity and entrepreneurship. Moderated by Peggy Olin, CEO of OneWorld Properties, the esteemed group shared their insights into the challenges and opportunities faced by women leaders in the world today. Marking Naftali Group’s debut in the Miami real estate market, JEM Private Residences will feature 67 soaring stories, ushering in a new standard for luxury living. Featuring architectures from Arquitectonica and New York City-based interior design firm Rockwell Group, the chic design and aesthetic incorporate the ocean landscape throughout the interior and exterior. Seamlessly blending indoor and outdoor living, JEM is set to be a serene oasis leaving no desire unmet.
